A MESSAGE FROM CRAFT LAKE CITY'S

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

ANGELA H. BROWN

Welcome to the 18th Annual Craft Lake City DIY Festival Presented By Harmons!

Each year, we are thrilled to bring the Utah community together for the largest arts, music, science and technology festival for 20,000 attendees and 1,000 total creatives, including artisans, youth entrepreneurs, vintage vendors, STEM innovators, performers, musicians, craft foodies, indie video game creators and more.

Through the DIY Festival, we strive to bring more to the Utah Creative community year-after-year. In 2022,

Kid Row, the youth entrepreneur vendor section of the DIY Festival, was held for the first time. In 2023, the VIP area was added, in 2024, the DIY Fest after Dark began, in 2025, Craft Lake City added the Robot Invasion Room Presented By XMission and in 2026, Craft Lake City is introducing service artisans, which include tattoo artisans and beauty technicians, to the DIY Festival lineup.

Craft Lake City is a 501(c)(3) local arts nonprofit serving 800,000 people, including 1,700 creatives, a year with the mission to educate, promote and inspire local artisans while elevating the creative culture of the Utah arts community through science, technology and art.

Beyond the DIY Festival, Craft Lake City serves the community through craft workshops, STEM rocket launches, exhibitions, The Craft Lake City Business Academy, The Craft Lake City Youth Entrepreneur Program Powered By VentureLab, The Third Annual Craft Lake City Makers Mart in Millcreek, The Eighth Annual Craft Lake City Holiday Market in Ogden and The Sixth Annual Craft Lake City LetterWest Conference in Midvale.

Thank you for your support by being present and engaged with Utah's creative community. You can also support Craft Lake City through donations using the QR code found in this program.

We are builders. We are dreamers. We are Craft Lake City.

Best,

Angela H. Brown

A WELCOME LETTER FROM THE SALT LAKE CITY MAYOR ERIN MENDENHALL

Dear Salt Lakers and visitors,

Welcome to the 2026 Craft Lake City DIY Festival, Utah's largest local-centric celebration of art, science, technology, and music! For 18 years, the DIY Fest has brought makers, dreamers, builders, and tinkerers together in one place to showcase what's possible when people take an idea and run with it.

That spirit of "Do It Yourself" means so many things here. It's personal—something you've imagined, shaped, and shared. But it's also collective. Behind every small business, art piece, or homegrown design is an entire community cheering it on. So while you may have done it yourself, we're here to celebrate the fact that you didn't have to do it alone.

Over the next three days, you'll experience the depth of that creative community, from the artisan market and live performances to the STEM Building, food vendors, DIY stations, and more. There's even Kid Row, where the next generation of makers—many younger than the festival itself—are already building a future full of big ideas.

Salt Lake City is proud to be home to such a talented maker community. Whether you're here to showcase your work or find inspiration in someone else's, thank you for supporting local, sharing your skills, and helping this celebration grow stronger every year.

Enjoy the festival!

Erin Mendenhall

WELCOME TO CRAFT LAKE CITY'S 18TH ANNUAL DIY FESTIVAL

Dear Friends and Neighbors,
it is our honor to welcome you back to the 18th Annual Craft Lake City DIY Festival. For years now, it has been our privilege to stand alongside Craft Lake City as it champions the makers, artists, and dreamers who give Utah its creative spirit. Being part of that story is something we don't take for granted.

Our own story began in 1932, when my grandparents opened a small fruit stand called the Market Spot. Their idea was simple: bring fresh food to the community and give neighbors a place to gather and connect. Nearly a century later, that spirit still guides us. We're proud to support the local farmers, artisans, and creators whose work fills our shelves and your homes—and this festival celebrates that same independent, hands-on spirit in every booth.

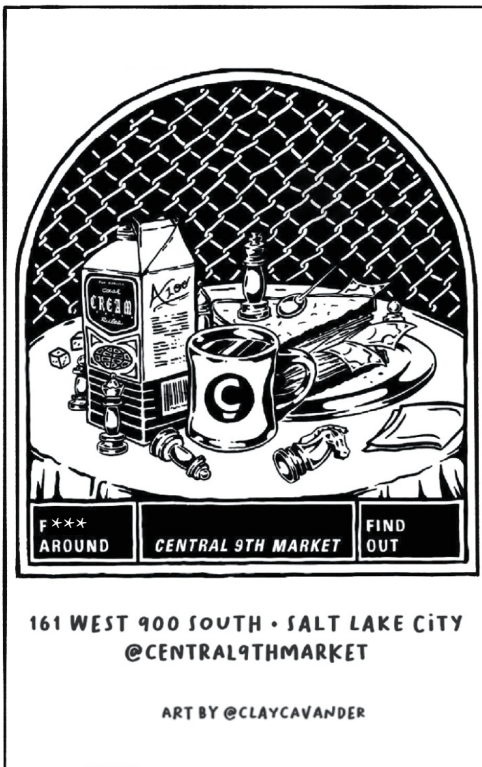

Getting started as a maker takes a rare kind of passion and commitment. We understand it, because we've lived it. This weekend, we celebrate not only the crafts themselves but the people and stories behind them. As you explore the festival, take time to meet the artisans, ask about their journeys, and discover what drives their work. From seasoned craftspeople to the young entrepreneurs of Kid Row, these are the stories that make our community stronger. Thank you for being here and for supporting local creativity. Your presence is what makes this event thrive, and we're grateful to Craft Lake City for the chance to help bring it to life.

Enjoy the festival, find something that inspires you, and take home a piece of Utah's creative spirit.

With Gratitude,

Bob Harmon

ALL WEEKEND

BALL LAUNCHERS. PRECISION ROBOTS. ENGINEERING IN ACTION.

Robot invasion returns with some of Utah's most talented FIRST tech challenge robotics teams as they showcase the robots they designed, built, and programmed for this year's competition season.

Watch robots launch game pieces with incredible speed and accuracy, demonstrate autonomous navigation and explain the engineering, programming and teamwork behind every machine. Team members will be available throughout the festival to answer questions, share their design process and inspire future engineers.

Whether you're interested in robotics, coding or simply want to see some seriously impressive machines, Robot Invasion is a must-see STEM experience.

BIG IDEAS COME IN ALL SIZES.

SAT. AUG 8, 12-4 P.M.

Discover Kid Row, A one-day-only marketplace featuring youth entrepreneurs ages 18 and under. Shop original handmade goods, meet the young makers behind each business and support the next generation of Utah's creative community. Many participants are graduates of Craft Lake City's Youth Entrepreneur Program Powered by VentureLab. Find Kid Row near the North Entrance in the grassy area by the stages!

MEET EVERY YOUNG MAKER BEFORE YOU VISIT!

Browse participating youth businesses, Learn their stories and plan your Kid Row shopping list.
